

No democracy can long survive without an educated and informed electorate. Anything that jeopardizes the independence of our news sources can not be serving the best interests of our great country. Please think of the long term consequences for our nation's well-being before you proceed to undo our great journalistic institutions with such a careless act, motivated I'm afraid primarily by the search for greater corporate profits and greed.